The Salinas City Council has authorized the firm of Municipal Auditing Services (MAS) to conduct a review of compliance with the City's business tax ordinance. The goal of this compliance review is to ensure the City collects the business license tax equitably and accurately from all individuals and entities conducting business in the City of Salinas. Collecting taxes from only those businesses that pay them voluntarily and accurately is unfair and does not promote good business.

During the next three-years, the compliance program will include a review of all individuals and entities currently operating with a City business license and identifying those individuals and entities who are conducting business in the City without a business license. MAS will conduct reviews as an agent of the City, acting as an extension of City staff and conducting reviews pursuant to the City's business tax ordinance. All information gathered by MAS will be used by the City solely for administration of the business tax ordinance and all personal information will be retained by the City as confidential.

The City appreciates your full cooperation with MAS as they conduct their reviews.
